

Looking Back: University League of Charlottesville

Celebrating 80 years as the University League

Eight young women, daughters of University of Virginia professors, founded the University League in 1932. They wanted to convert female spare time into volunteer time for the benefit of the Charlottesville community.

The University League focused a majority of their time on fundraising in order to financially support various community organizations. These fundraising efforts included cabarets, the Opportunity Shop, Cookbooks, holiday tours and even dog shows.

During the 1940s the League devoted all of their efforts towards the war. A motor corps was developed and staffed by the League, which served the Albemarle Chapter of the National defense.

The Count Comes to Town

The Count of Vaudreuil, an 18th century French nobleman, was painted in 1784 by Marie Louise Elizabeth Vigee-LeBrun. The portrait, along with 11 other French paintings of the 17th and 18th centuries, will be displayed in Charlottesville from today through Friday on the Virginia Museum's Artmobile II.

Artmobile Visits Charlottesville

Residents of the Charlottesville area will have a rare opportunity to see some of the South's finest 17th and 18th century French art in the Virginia Museum's Artmobile II, which arrived here today for a five-day exhibition.

The show, "An Age of Elegance and Grandeur," surveys the style of the great age of Louis XIV and includes paintings by Hubert Robert, Jean-Antoine Watteau, Jean Baptiste Greuze, Claude Vignon and other French artists.

The exhibition is sponsored by the University League. Mrs. Gilbert Sullivan is president of the group.

In addition to paintings, the mobile gallery contains a pair of fine gilt Regency consoles of the early 18th century. Exhibited on them are two cherubic bronze sculptures by Guillaume de Groff, one of the leading sculptors of the Rococo school.

All the works on display in the artmobile are from the Virginia Museum's permanent collection of French art.

The artmobile was stationed at Jefferson School today and was open from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 3 p.m.

Tomorrow through Friday, it will be at the Barracks Road Shopping Center. The hours are as follows: tomorrow, 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 3 p.m.; Wednesday, 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 5 p.m.; Thursday, 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 5 p.m., 7 to 9 p.m.; and Friday, 10 a.m. to noon, 1 to 5 p.m., 7 to 9 p.m.

The University League was able to financially support many community organizations including:

-- Children's Theater

-- Refurbishment of the children's wing at Martha Jefferson Hospital.

--Brought art to the community.

--Researched, funded, planned, and manned the Senior Center until it became independent in 1965.

The University League launched the Children's Museum at UVA Primary Care Center. Additionally they formed the Children's Museum Coalition Committee to help with research and build exhibits. This committee later evolved into the Virginia Discovery Museum.

The University League joined the Association of Junior League International Inc. (AJLI) in 1981. Although we are now associated with the Junior League, we still remember and celebrate our history of serving as the University League.

Getting “Pinned”

A formal ceremony hosted by Active League Members congratulating the Provisional Members by giving them their JLC pin. After completing their Provisional year tasks they are welcomed into the Junior League of Charlottesville as an ACTIVE member. This signifies that you are no longer a Provisional member and a part of the Junior League of Charlottesville.

CONGRATULATIONS—we are so happy to welcome our new members to the JLC family.
